Building a Future-Ready Bank

2025 Global Summit Series

THE BANKING WORLD IS TRANSFORMING. IT'S TIME TO HAVE A FEW CONVERSATIONS. WELCOME TO OUR 2025 SERIES OF SUMMITS.

The “industrial revolution” of the banking sector has accelerated with the advent of AI and the rapid change of demographics. Regulatory runways across the world are maturing, and many more pure digital banks are being set-up. Gen-Z wants everything, including banking instantly. SME's and corporations can't succeed without digital transaction banking helping them manage their business. What about next-gen Core? Payments & Lending needs to move to the next level of development. The questions, challenges and opportunities are innumerable.

So, what will the Bank of The Future look like? Will Strategy drive Technology, or will Technology Drive Strategy? It's time to have a few conversations. Cedar and IBS Intelligence are pleased to announce its 2025 Global Summit Series across 8 cities. Half-Day curated sessions packed with multiple panels that include insightful leaders from banking and technology firms in serious conversations. Panels are moderated by our Senior Partners, all with over two decades of consulting and advisory experience to leading banks and technology firms. Walk away enlightened, or at least more curious about what the future will be and what you can do about it.

Cedar-IBS Intelligence Summit's are a great opportunity for panelist to share their insights, for senior bankers in the audience to absorb and reflect, and for technology firms to use this platform to showcase their brands, and potentially meet their next client.

Looking forward to seeing you there.

Regards,
